

Project In Review

(Tell about your 4-H project related activities this year using one of the following formats: story, date-line, photographs, diary or journal).

My biggest project this year was drawing. I focused mainly on drawing portraits this year. I worked on celebrity portraits, family portraits, and self-portraits.

The common tools used for my drawings are graphite pencils and colored pencils. Although I have also just recently attempted at drawing with pastels.

This year I decided to enter some of my drawings into the Crawford County Fair.

I entered four pencil drawings, all of which received a blue ribbon.

One drawing in particular, which was just a face portrait, got selected to go to state fair, which I have decided to enter. I also received a merit award for it.

I've been working with new drawing techniques and I plan to enter my more accomplished drawings into the fair next year, with the hope of an even better outcome.
